

CYBER SANDWICH

TEMPLATES & EXAMPLES

CLASSIC

EXAMPLES

EXAMPLES

INCORPORATE VR

Some well known federalists were Alexander Hamilton, James Madison, and John Jay.

Things that Student 1 found.

Their supporters were property owners, wealthy merchants in northern states, urban.

They believed that a strong central government could best protect individual citizens and their rights and freedom.

They believed that a strong central government was necessary if the states were going to band together to form a nation.

States needed to be organized under a larger.

Things that Student 2 found.

1. They both did what they thought was best for the people

2. Both didn't want to strong of a government

3. They wanted a small central government.

4. Didn't like the original Constitution.

5. Feared a strong central government because they were scared it would cover power state governments.

6. Were supported by small farmers.

7. Wanted a Bill of Rights.

Articles of Confederation

Both wanted to

#EduProtocols

REVOLUTION

HOW CAN CHANGING IDEALS LEAD TO PROTEST?

NAMES _____

How did rulers use religious ideas, art, and monumental architecture to legitimize their rule?

Created by Kathryn Byars @msbyarshistory

Rockstar Task:
BE THE STUDENT

MORE INFO

PRO TIP

SHEG has primary sources that fit perfectly

